MidWest®
Homes For Pets

1920s

Mid-West Metal Products incorporates on July 7, 1921 with the purchase of three patents for metal-stamped parts used in construction. The product line grows to include pipe straps, conduit strips, and other items available in hardware stores.

1930s

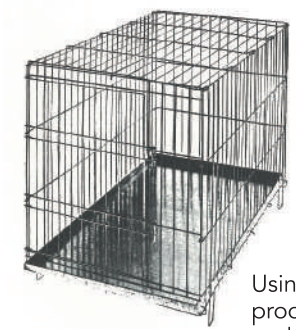

The Great Depression takes its toll on business throughout the country. With a decline in home construction, Mid-West transitions to the design and production of wire products including rubbish burners and home canning racks.

1940s

With a surge in home canning during World War II, canning racks became one of the company's most successful products. Mid-West enters into the "Home & Garden" market with such products as racks for flowers and sterilizing baby bottles, egg gathering baskets, border fencing for gardens, and other items.

1950s

Using their expertise in wire forming, a new product, a wire pet enclosure, is introduced and eventually changes the focus and direction of the business. With the introduction of the No. 30 Square Folding Wire Basket and Animal Pen, Mid-West Metal Products enters the market for manufacturing pet homes.

1960s

Mid-West is poised to emerge as the clear leader in the manufacturing of pet homes in the pet industry. The company expands its production to include three sizes of pet homes and markets them through the Sears catalog.

1970s/80s

In partnership with veterinarians and dog trainers, Mid-West begins advocating the concept of crate training within the pet industry and develops educational materials such as the ABC's of Crate Training, making them available to distributors, pet stores, and pet parents. The information includes the do's and don'ts of proper crate training and educates pet parents on the use of wire crates for housebreaking, reducing anxiety, and providing a personal "den" environment for pets.

1990s

In 1994, recognizing the vital importance of these pet products, Mid-West Metal Products creates MidWest Homes for Pets, a specialized division within the company.

2000s

With tremendous success and a stronghold in the pet industry, MidWest Homes for Pets launches an array of new products and begins protecting intellectual property, eventually amassing over 140 patents. The product line expands to include kennels, plastic travel carriers, fabric crates, pet gates, cat furniture, small animal habitats, and a wide assortment of pet beds.

2010s+

Now in its fourth generation of leadership, the family-owned company has evolved and adapted – making its mark by achieving its centennial year. MidWest has succeeded by providing innovative product, quality customer service, and unparalleled support to retailer and distributor partners. Our tagline – Because Life Goes Better with Pets® – states something we genuinely believe, and we take pride in offering the safest and best products that result in happy and rewarding relationships between pets and pet parents.

Family Owned
100 YEARS
1921 - 2021

The Company That Stands for Something More

100 YEARS
Family Owned
Since 1921

With a robust 100-year history, MidWest Homes for Pets' industry-leading quality assurance practices, exceptional customer service, and the ability to innovate and adapt are the practices that sustain our brand. Our top priority is bringing to market the best and safest products for pets. To achieve this, we guarantee:

A Commitment to Quality

Each MidWest product undergoes rigorous testing from the product design phase and throughout the lifespan of the product line. This is followed with outstanding customer service support and a 1-year manufacturer's warranty. This system gives MidWest customers the assurance that they are receiving the best product at the appropriate price and that MidWest is poised to address customer concerns when they arise.

To Work for Our Customers

MidWest routinely studies industry trends and conducts extensive consumer research in the containment category. We believe it is imperative to understand and be responsive to the customer. With a customer service team based at the company's headquarters in Indiana, we provide support to retail and distributor partners and communicate daily with pet parents, assisting with product assembly, crate training techniques, and any issues that may arise.

Intuitive Innovation

Using our 100 years of expertise in wire forming and manufacturing, thorough research, and intuition, our product development team designs and enhances our products to provide safe and innovative solutions for pet parents. To sustain our brands, we work to protect our intellectual property and have been issued over 140 patents for our pet products.

To Stay Connected

We set ourselves apart from competitors by maintaining a synergistic relationship among our research and design department; quality assurance and testing lab; sales, marketing, and customer service teams; shipping and receiving; and production facilities. Our teams collaborate and communicate daily about existing and new products, allowing us to rectify any issues that may arise in production, packaging, or shipping.

An Understanding That Pets Are Family

MidWest Homes for Pets is a fourth-generation family-owned company with a firm belief that a pet is far more than an animal you care for, they are a part of your family. This belief has led MidWest to focus on providing the highest quality and safest pet products that create and strengthen the bond we have with our pets. Our tagline – Because Life Goes Better with Pets® – states something we genuinely believe, and we take pride in offering products that promote healthy and enduring relationships between pets and pet parents.

MidWest® Homes For Pets

Quality You Can See, Feel, and Test

Quality is what built our brand over 100 years ago. It's the foundation of our business. A commitment to ongoing, industry-leading quality assurance practices is what sustains our brand.

We set ourselves apart from our competitors by our synergistic relationship among our research and design department, our quality assurance and testing lab, our customer service team, and our production facilities.

This system gives our customers the confidence that they are receiving the best possible product at the appropriate price and that we are poised to address customer concerns when they arise. Ultimately, it ensures that the pets who use our products are given the best, most innovative, and safest homes on the market.

Our tests follow detailed procedures and evaluation methods and are designed to meet the highest of standards, including those set forth by the American Society for Quality and the American Society for Testing and Materials.

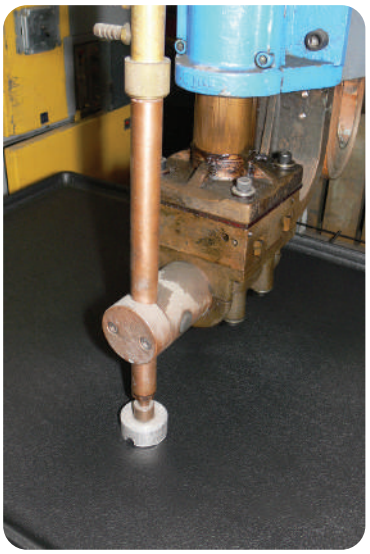

The Cross-Hatch Adhesion Tester and Lead Test evaluates wire coating adhesion and tests for traces of lead.

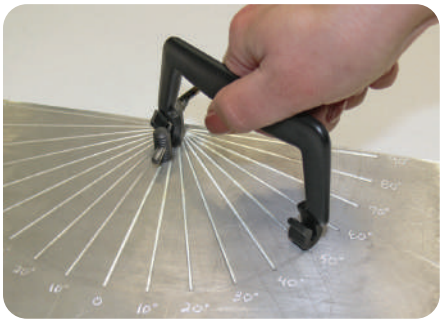

A Static Load Test is used to test the durability of a crate.

A Drop Test is used to test overall functionality of the crate and its components after 3 drops from three feet.

A Continuous Impact Test is used to test the durability of our plastic crate pans.

Our detachable plastic handles are put through the Handle Strength and Durability Test.

How Quality is Infused Into Our Product

Each MidWest product undergoes rigorous testing from the product design phase and throughout the lifespan of the product line.

Wire Products

Each crate, exercise pen, and wire product is tested for coating adhesion, rust resistance, lead, adherence to wire gauge and mesh standards, welds, and overall durability and functionality.

Textiles

Our QuietTime® pet beds and fabric products, like Feline Nuvo® Cat Furniture, undergo textile testing following the standards set forth by the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists.

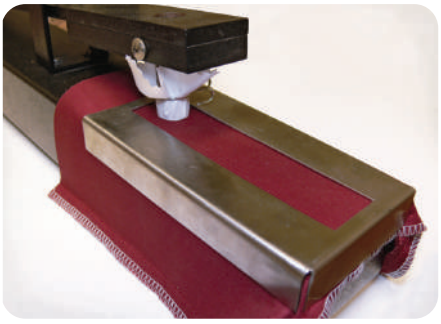

We closely monitor the appearance and durability of our pet beds after repeated laundering, evaluating the smoothness, seams, weight, density, dimensional changes, pilling, and colorfastness. Specialty textiles are repeatedly tested to ensure they meet our stated performance claims, including absorbancy and wicking in our Dry Paws™ Training Pads and water-resistency in our QuietTime® MAXX pet beds.

Packaging

MidWest tests to International Safe Transit Association standards on all products and their packaging, including the strength and robustness of the product and package combination, fixed displacement, vibration, and shock testing.

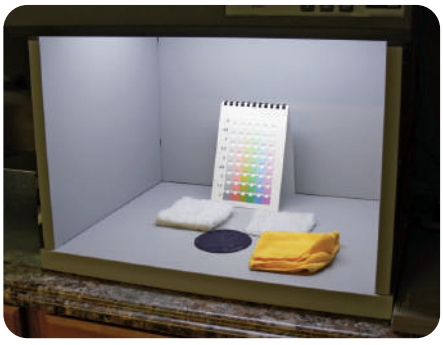

The Water Repellency Test measures the resistance of fabrics to wetting.

A Crockmeter is used for testing the transference of color from the surface of one material to another by either wet or dry rubbing.

A Martindale Abrasion Tester is used to check the abrasion and pilling resistance of fabric. Fine grit sandpaper is used to replicate the pad of a dog's paw.

A Light Box allows us to look at the results of our tests under different types of light, including daylight, fluorescent and incandescent light.
